

THE CALL

A BIWEEKLY PUBLICATION OF ROANOKE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

VOL. 2 - Aug.5, 2015

Money Matters

Co-op returns $500k in capital credits to members

It really does pay to be a member of Roanoke Electric Cooperative. Members will learn just how much when capital credits are distributed this month by the co-op. Read more.

Co-op Voices

Mr. Wynn goes to Washington

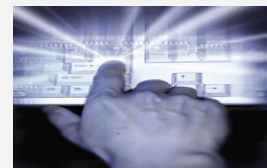

Roanoke Electric Co-op's CEO Curtis Wynn met recently with White House officials in Washington, D.C. to offer his perspective on energy efficiency and renewable energy development. For more information about this special meeting, read more.

REC Solutions

Plans underway to improve local broadband access

Dreams of having broadband internet access throughout the region may soon be coming true. Learn more about why Roanoke Electric Co-op is making headlines with its forward-thinking plans for a fiber optic network. Read more.

Read all about it

This just in... The 2014 Annual Report

As member owners of Roanoke Electric Co-op, it's important to keep abreast of its financial health and strategic direction. The 2014 annual report offers such insights and provides updates on how the co-op is responding to the call to serve. Read more,

Mark your calendars!

Coming Soon: Roanoke Electric's Annual Meeting

Roanoke Electric Co-op's Annual Meeting is set for August 22 at Hertford High School, and all members are invited. To learn more about what's on tap for this year's special event, read more.

Contact: Brittany Tann, Editor
Roanoke Electric Cooperative, Aulander, NC
252-209-2236
www.roanokeelectric.com

